2018 Women of Distinction

History

First launched in 1993 in Columbia, SC, the Women of Distinction Event is a recognition and fundraising event that celebrates and honors outstanding female leaders for their professional accomplishments, service to others, and impact on the community. Girl Scouts is now calling upon the Greenville community to help identify women who exemplify excellence both through their professional achievements as well as their civic engagement.

Honorees are chosen based on four criteria: professional/community leadership, professional/community service, strong role model for girls and community visibility. One of the components of this event is a video presentation in which selected honorees and those who have submitted their nominations have the opportunity to highlight the contributions of the honoree to improving the quality of life in our community. In addition to presenting this year's Women of Distinction, a Young Woman of Distinction will be honored for her exemplary accomplishments in Girl Scouting. These collective achievements and visibility set a powerful example for Girl Scouts as a whole as well as Greenville's current and future leaders.

Today, Girl Scouts of South Carolina - Mountains to Midlands, Inc. serves all girls ages 5-17 throughout 22 counties of the Midlands and Upstate regions of South Carolina. Girl Scouting exists to transform today's girls into tomorrow's leaders. Girls today face many critical issues including school bullying, childhood obesity, teen pregnancy, issues of self-esteem, substance abuse and pressure to perform in school.

Participation in Girl Scouting is proven to make a life-long difference. Our leadership, Board Chair Rebecca Lever and CEO Kim Hutzell, along with a 22 member volunteer Board of Directors, remains committed to being an advocate for every girl, everywhere and to building girls of courage, confidence, and character so that they may make the world a better place.

Join Our Celebration!

For over 100 years, Girl Scouts has improved the lives of girls and inspired girls to improve the world around them. This is our single mission.
