Workshop Descriptions and Accommodations

Power of the Sun—Solar Energy & Solar Ovens

Join Sara Rajca from Solarize South Carolina to learn what all the fuss is about solar energy! In this two part session we will begin with an overview of why solar energy rocks and then transition into a hands-on activity by making solar ovens. You are welcome to take your solar ovens home and instructions on how to complete this activity with your troop will be provided.

Gardening Round Robin

Whether you have a green thumb or feel completely clueless in the garden, you'll learn new activities that will prove to be tons of fun and help enhance your girls' appreciation for nature. We will discuss sustainable gardening practices, make our very own miniature bird baths, showcase a vermi-compost bin, and much more!

Networking and Outdoor Time

Breathe in the fresh outdoor air and spend this time doing whatever you want with several options to choose from: go on a Nature Scavenger Hunt, spend time canoeing, or even relax on a bird-watching hike. It's up to you!

Relaxation 101

Calm those nerves and pamper yourself. After cookie season we all know how important it is to take time for yourself. In this session you'll learn all about essential oils and how they can aid anything from dry skin to restlessness. You'll have the chance to make a fizzy bath bomb and a tried and true stress ball. Remember this weekend is about YOU!

Spring & Summer Crafts

Spring pastels and bright summer colors! Make some fun and simple spring and summer crafts using inexpensive materials that your girls will love. Please bring one inexpensive washcloth (white or a pastel).

Wine Pairing with Cookies

Ah, the ultimate in relaxation—wine and Girl Scout cookies! Enjoy a relaxing Saturday evening sipping on wine that has been “expertly” paired with our Girl Scout cookies. Sparkling grape juice available, too!

Baby Boats

As the evening winds down, we'll get together to make and launch baby-boats (also known as wish boats) - a true Girl Scout tradition. A perfect ending to a day of fun and friendship with your sister Girl Scout volunteers.

All About SWAPS (Special Whatchamacallits Affectionately Pinned Somewhere)

SWAPS are small tokens of friendship that the girls exchange with other Girl Scouts they meet along the way. We'll learn SWAP basics and etiquette and make a few samples. Bring some of your favorite SWAPS and ideas to share!

Accommodations

You will be staying in the Cottages at Camp Kinard—each made up of two sleeping rooms (4 bunks in each—total capacity 16) with it's own bathroom and a joining common room in which to relax and mingle.
